440 IN NODAWAY PAID INCOME TAX

ACCORDING TO REPORT OF COMMISSIONER FOR 1921

IN THE STATE 172,519

Personal Income Taxes Amounted to $14,660,351 and State Corporations Paid $19,623,827

Nodaway County had 440 individuals who paid federal income taxes in the year 1921 according to a report made public by Commissioner of Internal Revenue Blair at Washington. Andrew County had 130, Atchison 290, Gentry 330, Holt 250, and Worth 80.

The total number of returns in the state was 172,519. Net income reported amounted to $499,911,004. Personal exemptions totaled $367,946,300, and exemptions under the head of dividends, $57,688,728. The normal tax paid was $7,326, 649 and the surtax $7,326,649.

Of the 172,519 returns, 82,709 were made from the city of St. Louis and 7374 from St. Louis County. Jackson County, which includes Kansas City, had 39,915. Ozark County was at the bottom of the list, with only one return.

The number of Missouri returns was 2.59 per cent of the total for the nation. The net income was 2.55 per cent of the total. The tax paid was 2.04 per cent of the total.

The percentage of the population filing returns was 5.07. The average net income per return was $2897.72 and the average tax per return, $84.98. Per capita, the net income reported was $146.86, figuring the population of the State at 3,404,055 (census of 1920). The per capita tax was $4.31.

Net corporation income reported for Missouri was $129,380,542, which, when added to the personal income, makes a total net income for the State amounting to $629,291,456, or 2.63 per cent of the total for the whole country.

The total personal and corporation tax paid by the State was $34,284,178, or 2.44 per cent of the National total.

Of the 13,735 corporations listed for Missouri, 7338 reported net income. They paid an income tax of $10,817,654 and a war and excess profits tax of $8,806,173, a total tax of $19,623,827. Corporations reporting no net income numbered 6397. After deductions were made from their reported gross income they showed a deficit of $90,199,119.

The total corporation tax showed a decline in Missouri year by year from the top figure of $103,399,779 in 1918 to $19,623,827 in 1921. The number of corporations reporting no net income grew from 4024 in 1919 to 6397 and the deficit of such corporations—gross income less deductions—from $26,162,252 in 1919 to $90,199,619 in 1921.

One Missouri taxpayer reported a net income between $400,000 and $500,000. To conceal the exact amount of the income and the identity of the taxpayer, as required by law, the report grouped the return with those of two residents of the State who paid on an amount between $300,000 and $400,000. The total tax assessed against these three was $650,000. This compares with the grand total of $14,660,351 paid by all classes of taxpayers in the state.

WOLFE TRIUMPHS OVER TEXAS MAN

DEFEATS JACK MALONEY IN TWO STRAIGHT FALLS

DR. THOMAS OFFICIATES

Kansas City Man, Who Is Recognized State Middleweight Champion, Wishes To Meet Barackman

Billy Wolfe won. But he had one of the toughest propositions that he had ever faced since his mat career when he met Jack Maloney, middleweight champion of Texas in a finish match at the College Auditorium last night. The match went only two rounds. Nevertheless it was, in the opinion of the mat fans that witnessed Wolfe's victory, a wrestler that showed science to the nth degree and great strength on the part of both wrestlers.

Wolfe won in two straight falls. It took the recognized middleweight state champion one hour, two minutes and a half before he could finally pin the shoulders of the Texas wrestler down for the necessary points.

The first half hour of the match looked rather dubious for Wolfe. He was continually extracting himself out of one dangerous hold into another that seemed more critical and he suffered greatly at times, grunting and puffing and wriggling around in many positions in order to free himself from the holds that Maloney secured. The Texas wrestler seemed at ease at all times and appeared to break any serious hold that Billy got, but the fact is that Wolfe was on the bottom the greater part of the first fall.

Maloney took delight in crushing Wole's head between his legs or getting a head lock many times, which required all the strength that Wolfe could muster to wriggle out of.

The crowd, enthusiastic at all times but only numbering about half a hundred due to the inclement weather, applauded first one man and then the other. A dangerous scissors hold into which Wolfe found himself at the end of fifty minutes looked as if the Texas man could claim the first fall. The Kansas City man proved that he had developed some endurance and was in better condition than when he met Barackman during the summer and finally forced Maloney's shoulders to the mat with a bar arm and head lock hold.

During the intermission the men were weighed. Wolfe at that period was a pound heavier than Maloney, tipping the scales at 159.

The second fall was of shorter duration with the Kansas City wrestler on top most of the time and being the aggressor. In seventeen and one-half minutes Wolfe made Maloney give in with a hammer lock after wiggling out of a mean headlock that Maloney had fastened on him.

The match was clean from start to finish and was fast. Neither wrestler wasted any time to take a breathing spell. Dr. D. J. Thomas officiated. The bout was put on under the auspices of the James Edward Gray post of the American Legion. After Wolfe had won the two falls he announced to the audience that he would meet Mervin Barackman here in two weeks if the local wrestler desired. He said that he did not wish to claim the state championship if he thought there was a better man in the state and he wanted to find out for his own satisfaction whether Barackman or he was the better middleweight wrestler in the state of Missouri.

Robert Barrett Sr., of Skidmore is a guest for a few days at the home of his daughter, Mrs. L. Singleton in Burlington Junction.

OPPOSES SIMMONS AS KLAN OFFICIAL

E. Y. CLARK RESIGNS FROM OFFICE OF ORGANIZATION.

"WALTON IS MEMBER"

H. W. Evans, Imperial Wizard, Says at Trial at Atlanta, Ga.—Sent Funds to Oklahoma.

Kansas City, Oct. 30.—Declining to accept the leadership of the Simmons faction of the Ku Klux Klan, and refusing to call together the national program committee of the Klan of which he is chairman, E. Y. Clark, Imperial Giant of the hooded fraternity, today announced his resignation from the Klan office.

The resignation was made public here to J. R. Jones, Imperial Ambassador of the Klan. Jones said he received the information in a telegram from Clark. Copies of the resignation were sent to H. W. Evans, Imperial Wizard, and Simmons, it was said.

"My resignation was decided upon in order that I may devote more time to fight a nation-wide plot to ruin me physically, mentally and financially," Clark explained to the Ambassador.

Oklahoma City, Oct. 30.—Anonymous letters were exhibited here by members of the Oklahoma House of Representatives when they met this afternoon. The letters declared that the impeachment proceedings against Governor J. C. Walton were "prompted by malice" and that "some officials, not Kluxers, would not be molested."

"Walton is the goat because he is opposed to the Klan," one letter said. "No Klan legislation will likely be passed. The people are ready to curb the menace, if the legislature does not," another letter declared.

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 30.—"Governor J. C. Walton of Oklahoma was, and in all probability still is, a member 'at large' of the Ku Klux Klan," it was declared here in court this afternoon by H. W. Evans, Imperial Wizard.

This was one of the many sensations brought out today in the circuit court when testimony was given in the trial for receivership of the organization.

A startling sensation stated that the Klan headquarters in Atlanta furnished the Oklahoma Klan with funds "when they needed them," also was made by Evans. The officer declared, however, that the money was not used for political campaigns.

One of the affidavits, submitted in today's trial, was sworn to by the Reverend Mr. Ridley, high Klan official, who charged that the entire Klan is becoming disorganized because of Evans' administration. Another affidavit was made that a number of Klan organizations are withdrawing because of Evans.

BARACKMAN WINS BOUT WITH WATERS

FALLS CAME IN 1 HOUR 22 MINUTES AND 4 MINUTES

A SPECTACULAR MATCH

Both Men Displayed Rare Ability In Mat Game—About 150 Persons See Contest Last Night

And Mervin Barackman is still undefeated!

In perhaps the most spectacular match ever seen in Maryville, the local mat wonder met and defeated last night one "Texas" Teddy Waters, recognized champion of Texas.

Defeated him! Yes, in the short space of one hour and twenty-two minutes for the first fall and four minutes for the second; the first fall being won with a combination flying mare and a double armlock, the second with an arm and headlock.

And what a match it was: Each man in the pink of condition, exhibiting his wares that any wrestler might be proud of. And fast! Their speed held the hundred and fifty spectators breathless at many times during the progress of the match.

Waters' specialty seemed to be the toe-hold but he was unable to gain headway by this torturous hold. Barackman brought his armlock into play time and time again. However, the agile Waters continually slipped out before Mervin could force his shoulders to the mat.

Perhaps the feature of the first fall was when the Texan obtained an armlock and arm scissors on the local artist. He clamped it on tight and it looked as if Barackman was just around the corner of his Waterloo. But with wrestling ability seldom displayed even in metropolitan circles, the Maryville wrestler jumped out free amid the applause of the hundred and fifty spectators.

Flying mares were also brought into play considerably during this period. Finally, aided with a flying mare and a double armlock, the Texan was forced to the mat for the winning count. He was in a dazed condition for several minutes before he was able to leave the mat.

The second fall was short—coming at the end of four minutes of wrestling. Flying mares and armlocks also came into play during this period. Finally, Barackman clamped on an arm and headlock and pinned the Texan's shoulders to the mat for the winning fall and match.

Jackie Barackman, 10 years old, and Charles Wagner, the same age, furnished the preliminaries. Young Barackman won two falls out of three but young Wagner had him in several perilous situations.

Dennis Collins was the referee of the matches. Police Gazette rules were used.

BONAR LAW, BRITISH DIPLOMAT, IS DEAD

FORMER PREMIER DIES AT HOME EARLY THIS MORNING

INTERNATIONAL FIGURE

Succeeded David Lloyd George When Coalition Cabinet Was Forced Out—Was 65 Years Old

London, Oct. 30—Andrew Bonar Law, former premier of England, and an outstanding figure in international politics, died early today after a long illness. He was 65 years old.

Law's end was peaceful. He died at 2:30 o'clock this morning, remaining conscious until the end. His daughter and his son-in-law were at his bedside.

The statesman had been in failing health for several years, but his recent illness dates back to last week when he was stricken with pneumonia. He suffered from throat trouble complicated with heart weakness.

Although pneumonia was given as the immediate cause, the real cause was cancer and a stroke, it was learned by International News service this afternoon. Only the medical advisors and a few intimate friends possessed this information.

Andrew Bonar Law was forced from British premiership last May by illness, being succeeded by Stanley Baldwin, the present premier, on May 24.

The former premier's death comes as a severe blow to the Tory party and to a large number of friends, although it was not entirely unsuspected.

Bonar Law succeeded David Lloyd George after the coalition cabinet was forced out by the Tory faction of the British government.

A week ago, the former premier was believed to be on the road to recovery from the constant throat trouble which interrupted his career of statesmanship. A chill brought about a recurrence and symptoms of pneumonia developed.

Evening newspapers of all shades of political opinion played up the death of the Tory leader as a blow to English statesmanship. The papers paid tribute to the former premier's fearlessness and honesty.

Funeral arrangements had not been completed this afternoon. It is likely that memorial services will be held in Westeminster Abbey and the body may be buried in the Abbey among England's greatest statesmen.

LARGEST CIRCULATION IN NODAWAY COUNTY

Fastest Working Democrat in the U. S.

Washington, Oct. 30—Cordell Hull, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, today characterized T. J. Juden of Cape Girardeau, Missouri, as "the fastest working Democrat in the United States."

"I appointed Juden president of the National Democratic Victory Club at Cape Girardeau. His job was to find at least 20 Democrats who were sufficiently interested in electing a Democratic President and Congress to contribute $5 each now and agree to give $5 each in 1924.

"Juden received his credentials as Victory Club president from me on the morning mail and within one hour had enrolled 20 members and the checks for $100 were on the way to Washington. The postmarks on the letters bear this out.

"I take off my hat to Mr. Juden. He is the fastest worker I've come across in the Victory Club movement and I have already organized more than 1,000 of them."

Hull is forming what he calls a "National Democratic Victory Club" in each of the 6,000 towns of the country, as a means of organizing and financing the preliminary campaign this year and early next year and the Presidential campaign next fall. The work is being prosecuted in twenty states and has just been launched in Missouri. Enrollment of the clubs there is beginning this week.

IT PAYS THE YOUNG FARMER

"In dollars how much does education increase the earning capacity of the young farmer?" is a question asked of him by the U. S. Bureau of Education. Some of the State Agricultural Colleges are publishing figures in answer to his question.

The Georgia Agricultural College collected the facts from 1,741 farmers of that state and found that those who had no schooling earned on an average of only $240 a year, those with a good common school education earned $395 a year and those who had completed a high school course earned an average of $731. The men who had completed an agricultural short course earned $896 and those who had graduated from the agricultural college were earning an average of $1,254 a year.

The Kansas Agricultural College had 1,237 reports. The average young farmer with a common school education earned $612 a year, the high school graduate $754. The man who had taken the short course in agriculture earned an average of $850 a year, and the college graduate $1,152.

Sheep in Missouri

Missouri is an ideal state for the farm flock of sheep.

Missouri has more sheep than any state that borders it; 10th in state value of the golden fleece, and 11th in number—also 13th in number of pure-bred sheep.

Missouri's 1,771,616 sheep on farms in 1920 census were valued at $15,775,672.00 and average of $12.79. The sheep population was 1,15,127 lambs under 1 year old, 916,257 over 1 year old and over, and 47,232 rams and wethers. The U. S. Census estimated 121,012 more in 1923.

Missouri's purebred sheep at the last count were by breeds as follows, totalling 1,581: Dorset, 532; Hampshire, 1,237; Lincoln, 86; Merino, 117; Oxford, 795; Romboriller, 208; Shropshire, 1,427; Southdown, 128; Suffolk, 71; all other breeds, including Cheviot and Leicester, 1,157; among sheep in the United States the Shropshire breeds first in number at 124,[illegible] Rambouillet 196,815, Merino [illegible]3, and Hampshire 51,813.

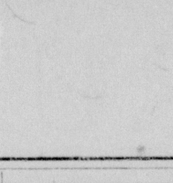
The trouble with too
Many of us is that
We let our charity
Cover too many sins.

"Life is not so short but there is always time for courtesy," wrote Emerson. Apparently a lot of people do not believe it.

Our neighbor who has been listening in every night on his radio set for two weeks says the bedtime story has not been changed in that time.

What do you suppose would happen if the Lord took all the advice which was handed out to him in people's prayers?

We often say some person bit off more than he could chew. As far as we are concerned we would be willing to try to chew all we could bite off.



Uncle Abner, the town philosopher, says the man without some egotism does not usually amount to much.

Our idea of a bit of sarcasm is the word "please" in front of the "remit at once" all of us get occasionally through the mail.

It is more what a man says himself than what others say that gets him into trouble.

The average automobilist's idea of Utopia would be a country where there were no pedestrians.

Many a man has acquired a reputation as a deep thinker by saying little and writing less.

The good old fashioned spelling bees of our father's school days are no more. But any business man who hires a stenographer does not need to be told of the fact.

Let the average man make a lucky guess and he credits the result to good judgment.

A lot of people who will masquerade tomorrow night with pumpkins over their heads will be more appropriately dressed than they realize.

False faces will be all right tomorrow night but there are too many people who wear them the year around.

When a neighbor woman can't think of anything else mean to say of another woman she remarks that she married her husband to reform him.

Louise, the stenographer, says it is one thing to be useful and another thing to let people use you.

We are always being told a "man's house is his castle." We doubt that when we consider the number which are in their wife's name.

"There goes a man who breaks his word every day," the observer of the present day said to us the other day. "Is he dishonest?" we asked. "No," replied your friend, "he stammers."

The reason a lot of us are not shirking marks is because we are cheapskates.

The reason so many men are henpecked is because they lack nerve.

"To forgive is divine," we often quote. To sidestep is a lot more practical.

Many a girl who has refused to take a job as maid got married and did the same work for nothing.

Many a woman who would not attempt a simple job of painting the kitchen floor does not hesitate to paint her face.

We bet the average woman knows about as much about a railroad time table as a bachelor does about a baby.

Magazine advertisements say anybody no matter how much education they may have can write motion pictures plays. And from what we see frequently in theatres we have come to the conclusion that a lot of them are doing it.

This Week At the Movies

Electric

On Tuesday and Wednesday the super feature "Human Wreckage" written by Mrs. Wallace Reid is to be shown. The story enchains interest with a grip that is never loosened. The acting is superb and millions have fought to gain entrance to the show at the various large cities where the picture has been shown. The picture has been indorsed by all of the great statesmen of the nation and by the Womans Federated Club and every where has met with hearty approval of the patrons. The story was written in an effort to stamp out the drug habit which caused the death of Mrs. Reid's husband and Mrs. Reid announces that she is just beginning the fight.

On Thursday a double feature will be shown, a Larry Semon in "The Barnyard" and William Duncan in "Smashing Barriers." "The Barnyard" is a comedy of fun and action where the comedian attempts life on a farm. Escapes from serious circumstances and many amusing incidents are shown. In "Smashing Barriers" Duncan makes his greatest stunt picture. Diving 100 feet into a big dam, hurdles throug hthe air in half mile wire slides and other hair raising stunt scenes are shown.

Gladys Walton in "The Wild Party" appears on Saturday. Action keeps up fairly well and the society angle is very effective. Many serious mistakes in the social world are made by the cub society editor of a paper who is attempting to get a huge scandal story on a prominent society woman.

Empire

Lionel Barrymore appears in "The Great Adventure" on Monday and Tuesday night. Publicity and women are two things that Priam Farell, the great artist fears. He is followed over the continent by Sophia Entwistle, who in a weak moment he allows himself to be engaged. He flees and hides as his dead valet. Getting mixed up with the wife of the dead valet and numerous other intrigues furnish a very high class amusing comedy. Lionel Barrymore as a character comedian is above par.

On Wednesday and Thursday an all star cast appears in "Only 38." Mrs. Stanley, the widow of a clergyman at thirty-eight, is left with her twins, aged eighteen, and an income of $90 a year. Her first step towards a new independence, after twenty years is to accept a position as assistant librarian in a small college where she meets Professor Giddings. The professor dislikes the twins and the twins dislike the professor which always creates a house divided against itself. Finally all are brought to see the light in a most interesting way.

Missouri, Fourth in Wheat.

Missouri is a soft red winter wheat state.

Missouri does not go broke when wheat sells low.

Missouri's finances do not hang on wheat or any other one crop.

Missouri in 1923 is temporarily the "Third Wheat State," next after Kansas and Illinois.

Missouri grows the soft wheat that makes the best flour for baking biscuits and pastry.

Missourians have made the greatest fame for their home state in the eras when they have most largely used Missouri grown-milled soft-wheat flour.

Gov. Dockery Writes About Origin of the American's Creed

The following written by Governor Dockery was published in the Gallatin papers last week:

* * * * * * * * * *

THE AMERICAN'S CREED.

I believe in the United States of America as a government of the people, by the people, for the people; whose just powers are derived from the consent of the governed; a democracy in a Republic; a Sovereign Nation of many Sovereign States; a perfect Union, one and inseparable; established upon those principles of Freedom, Equality, Justice, and Humanity for which American patriots sacrificed their lives and fortunes.

I therefore believe it is my duty to my country to love it; to support its Constitution; to obey its laws; to respect its flag; and to defend it against all enemies.

* * * * * * * * * *

Historic Meeting at Washington.

In my last communication I referred very briefly to the adoption of the American's Creed written by William Tyler Page, who shares with Francis Scott Key the honor of having been born in Frederick, Maryland.

The lives of these now historic Americans are associated, by the "American's Creed" and "Star Spangled Banner,' with Baltimore and Maryland. Let us indulge the pleasing hope for all coming generations the cardinal tenets of "The American's Creed" with the patriotic inspiration of the "Star Spangled Banner" may continue to aid in holding fast Americans, naturalized and native born, to the fundamental principles upon which the fathers established the Republic.

I desire at this time to submit some additional details of the historic meeting at the national capital which adopted "The American's Creed" as given above, for the United States of America.

The Congressional Record of April 6, 1918, discloses the details of this celebrated assemblage at the House office building of the national House of Representatives at Washington. Among the notables present were Speaker Champ Clark; former Speaker, J. G. Cannon; Dr. P. P. Claxton; United States Commissioner of education; Hon. Matthew Page Andrews, chairman of the committee on awards; Mayor Preston of Baltimore and a large number of others prominent in our national life. Among those in attendance were members of the committee on manuscripts and the committee on awards who with diligent care had examined many thousand proposed American Creeds offered prior to September 14, 1917, in the great national contest for "the best summary of the political faith of America."

The Prize Awarded to William Tyler Page.

The prize of one thousand dollars was offered by the city of Baltimore. The committee on manuscripts by a judicious process of winnowing reduced the number of eligible contestants to fifty and from this list the committee on awards selected "Creed No. 384." The envelope containing the author's name was opened March 6, 1918, in the city of New York, and it was then ascertained that Hon. William Tyler Page of Friendship Heights, Maryland, was the author and therefore the winner of the prize.

This distinguished son of Maryland now eminent in the literature of patriotism, is at this time clerk of the national House of Representatives and during a long and honorable career has illustrated in public and private life unfailing devotion to the inspiring doctrines so perfectly expressed in the language of "The American's Creed."

Chairman Matthew Page Andrews of the national committee on awards, consisting of Andrews, Irvin S. Cobb, Hamlin Garland, Ellen Glasgow, Julian Street, Booth Tarkington and Charles Hanson Towne, when reporting the seeletion of the "American's Creed" of Hon. William Tyler Page to Dr. P. P. Claxton, United States Commissioner of Education said: "The creed was selected because it was not only brief and simple but remarkably comprehensive of the best in American ideals, history and tradition as expressed by the founders of the Republic and its greatest statesmen and writers."

Dr. Claxton in fitting terms replied to the chairman of the committee on awards, in part, as follows: "For myself and the department which I represent, and for the educational interests of the United States, I wish to commend the author for the excellence of his selections and for the form in which he has put them together, and to congratulate him."

Addresses by Champ Clark and J. G. Cannon.

Speaker Champ Clark followed the commissioner of education with a very pleasing address of some length from which I quote the following excerpts:

"The power of condensation of language is one of the most valuable in writing or speaking. That is the reason why this creed written by Hon. William Tyler Page will be popular. It contains everything that is necessary, and there are no waste words in it. He has Lincoln's most famous phrase, one that will live forever, that cannot be amended.

"I cangratulate Mr. Page upon winning the $1,000 prize. I also congratulate him on becoming a historical personage.

"I am the ranking official here today and if this creed needs acceptance on the part of the American people, I accept it for them and in their name."

Former Speaker Joseph G. Cannon then made a very interesting brief address from which I make the following extracts:

"As I listened to the reading of that creed I could not see how it could be made any shorter or why it should be made any longer. It seems to me it hits the center. I congratulate my friend of many years. Yes; a thousand dollars is a comfortable thing to have; but if I could have gotten together the sentiments expressed in that creed, if I had the money I would give $100,000 to have been able to do that.

"Tyler Page was born in Maryland. Maryland is one of the greatest of the great states in the Union. Not greatest in population, but she was born free, as Rhode Island was born free—free by law—one under the grant to the Calverts and the other under the grant to Roger Williams. In those grants religious freedom was guaranteed by law for the first time in the history of the human race. In the earlier days Maryland was called "the Sanctuary" and properly so.

"You can not improve the lily by painting it. Again I cangratulate Mr. Page. I have known him these many years and in all those years he never had a duty to perform but what he performed it. Courteous, a gentleman, a man of learning and industry; if I was to talk for an hour I do not know that I could say anything in addition to what I have said touching him and touching the Creed."

A congratulatory letter to Mr. Page was then read by Chairman Claxton from Hon. Claude Kitchen in which Mr. Kitchen said "The splendid thought and sentiment expressed in your "American's Creed' is an inspiration to every American patriot."

Then following a very apropriate address by Mayor Preston of Baltimore the exercises were concluded by Chairman Claxton, the Commissioner of Education, with the following statements:

Address of the United States Commissioner of Education.

"Mr. Page has been congratulated on winning the $1,000 prize. I wish to congratulate the Nation on winning the formulation of a creed. By virtue of the act establishing the office which I hold it is my duty to do whatsoever I may to assist the states in establishing and maintaining better systems of education. With the consent of those who have these proceedings in charge, I consider it my duty to see that every schoolhouse in the United States is furnished with a copy of this creed, to be learned by the 20 millions people now in those schoolhouses and the scores and hundreds of millions who will follow."

Creed Should Be Memorized and Recited by School Children.

In these concluding words the United States Commissioner of Education has blazed the pathway of duty for us.

The teachers and the directors of schools of Nodaway County, the teachers, school directors and county school superintendents of the various counties of the state, the Missouri University, state teachers' colleges and all private colleges and schools, under the leadership of the state superintendent of schools, should take the necessary steps to have "The American's Creed" memorized by school children and recited on definite occasions.

As I have therefore stated the great patriotic organization of the Sons of the Revolution already recite the American's Creed at all their meetings. It is full time for our children to become familiar with the essential principles of free government so delightfully expressed by William Tyler Page in the American's Creed.

PLAYED WITH LINCOLN

J. M. Hale, eighty-six years old, demonstrating the way that he and Abraham Lincoln "knuckled down." Mr. Hale, as a boy in Springfield, Ill., played with Robert Lincoln and on many occasions "Honest Abe," who at that time was a country attorney, would join them shooting marbles.

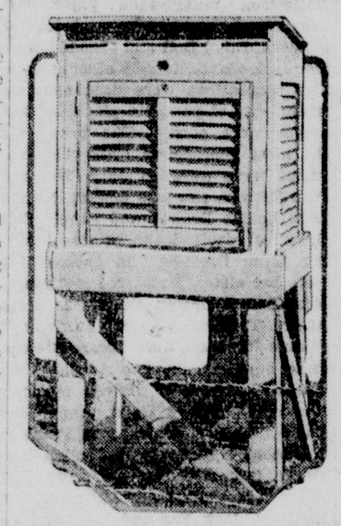
HOTTEST SPOT ON EARTH



The highest natural air temperature known on earth was recorded by this meteorological instrument kept by the United States government on the floor of the famous Death valley in southern California—the hottest spot on earth. The almost unbelievable temperature of 134 degrees Fahrenheit was registered by the mercury there this year. Only one white man lives there. He replaced five others who died insane.

Coolidge's "Silence" Irks Republican Leaders

Washington, D. C., Oct. 30.—President Coolidge's "silence" regarding governmental problems which are the subject of discussion and worry all over the country has begun to irk certain Republican politicians and not a few Republican newspapers. They are becoming persuaded that this reticence is being interpreted by the people as due to Mr. Coolidge's want of initiative at a time when imagination and aggressiveness are especially requisite.

Upon several important problems which the President has consented to talk, it is declared, he has spoken with so many qualifications that his utterances have had no positive value. In such instances, it is reported Republican politicians are saying, his speech has been only a little less disadvantageous to his party than his silence.

Democrats are commenting that the problems which the President faces are not new to him and should not require the time and study which he is said to be devoting to them. As vice-President, Democrats point out, Mr. Coolidge was consulted by President Harding, along with the members of the Cabinet, in respect to every important concern of the Harding administration. Among the big problems regarding which President Harding consulted Mr. Coolidge were the condition of agriculture, the equalization of freight rates, the reduction of taxes, the collection of the foreign debt, the modification of the tariff—especially on sugar—and notably the World Court.

When President Harding was studying these questions he had the help of all the several agencies of the government. The Departments of Agriculture, Commerce and State, the Treasury, Interstate Commerce Commission, etc., provided him with data and advice which were presented also to the Cabinet and presumably to the Vice-President, Democrats remark. There is a widespread belief among politicians of both the big parties that Mr. Coolidge has had a fair opportunity to formulate some policy with respect to these urgent issues and should therefore take the public into his confidence.

It has been suggested as an explanation of the President's silence that he is withholding his views on all the major problems before him so that he may not anticipate his message to the forthcoming Congress. The Democratic reply to this statement is that when he was being pressed to do something for the wheat growers and was urged to call an extra session of Congress to deal with this situation, he is reported to have replied that the proponents of that plan shohld first devise an effective remedy.

The President's taciturnity is being taken as corroboration of a general popular impression that he is a man without warmth or winning ways. It is the fear that this impression will grow and spread that now fills the minds of the Republican politicians. They don't like the idea of entering a critical campaign such as next year's is sure to be with a candidate who has to live down a reputation for coldness and want of imagination.

Missouri Fighting Wolves

The Missouri wolf survey, as made by E. A. Logan and Jewell Mayes, shows astonishing numbers of wolves scattered nearly all over the state. Complete reports have been received, showing names and addresses of farmers, and the approximate damage done to livestock and poultry by wolves.

Missouri has more wolves than at any time within forty years. The coyotes are common in north and central Missouri, and the timber-wolf is found more often than was anticipated in southern and central Missouri.

The trappers, employed by the U. S. Biological Survey in co-operation with the Missouri State Board of Agriculture, are doing good work. The question of "the first wolf caught" is in contention between Phelps, Carroll and Stone Counties, with good work going on in certain other counties.

The "worst wolf" leather-medal to date goes to Stone County to a wolf which accumulated and carried off two wolf traps. The state-federal trapper in Ripley County lately trapped two large old red wolves recognized as the ring leaders of a pack of blood-thirsty marauders of that area. All infested areas will be reached by trappers as rapidly as force and funds will permit.

Daring Motorist Saves Lives

St. Louis, Oct. 30—A thrilling escape from death was enacted here by Forest M. Dillow. The rescue was not one of the kind where the hero undergoes no personal danger in saving a life, but one of the red-blooded type which would make the stars of cinema railroad dramas envy the Hero.

Motoring with his wife and three small children, Dillow's automobile stalled on a railroad crossing in the path on an oncoming fast passenger train.

Dillow threw his wife and children from the machine to safety, and jumped just a second before the car was demolished by the locomotive. No one was injured.

HOGS HIGHER, LAMBS STEADY, CATTLE WEAK.

Kansas City Stock Yards, Oct. 29.—Chicago with 58,000 hogs was the only market that reported liberal supplies and while prices there were slightly lower, the market here was strong to higher with trade active. Trade in cattle opened slowly. Good to choice fed steers were fully steady, and practically all other classes were weak. Average quality of the offerings was plain. Receipts of cows and stockers and feeders were liberal. A good many country buyers were here and volume of trade in stockers and feeders was fairly large. Fat lambs were steady to strong.

Today's Receipts.

Receipts today were 34,000 cattle, 14,000 hogs, and 11,000 sheep, compared with 35,000 cattle, 18,000 hogs, and 12,000 sheep a week ago, and 35,000 cattle, 14,550 hogs, and 10,150 sheep a year ago.

Beef Cattle.

Practically all cattle that showed any material amount of feed sold readily at steady prices. Most of these classes brought $9.50 to $11.25. Short fed and warmed up classes were slow sale at about the same price level as late last week. Grass fat cattle were steady to slightly lower, though very uneven in both demand and prices. In a general way trade is marking time until the heavy run of good grass cattle from the Northwest is ended. Cows and heifers remained in liberal supply and sold at the same prices as last week. Cows that show any material amount of dry feed are slightly higher. Veal calves and bulls were steady.

Stockers and Feeders.

Though there was a fairly good demand for stockers and feeders the supply was liberal and prices were not quotably changed from last week's close. Fleshy and strong weight feeders moved more readily.

Hogs.

Hog prices were strong to 10 cents higher. More strong than showed the advance. Most of the good 200 to 290 pound hogs offered sold to shippers at $7.00 to $7.25. Packers took a few at $7.00 to $7.25. Plain light, medium and heavy hogs sold at $6.15 to $7.00, and the bulk of all the hogs fat enough for killing purposes brought $6.25 to $7.20. Packing sows sold at $6.25 and stock hogs and pigs at $5.25 to $5.75.

Sheep and Lambs.

Salesmen held lambs for higher prices, but the failure of other markets to show an advance prevented higher prices here. The bulk of the lambs which were from the West, sold at $13.00 to $13.30. Native lambs sold up to $13.00, the highest price in some weeks past. The few ewes here brought $6.25.

Horses and Mules.

Offerings of horses and mules for this week's auction were about 700 head, mostly mules of good quality. Opening trade indicated steady prices for the week.

Minneapolis, Minn.—"I had heard so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that when I realized I needed to take something to relieve my pains and backache, and to help build me up I began to take that. I had been sick off and on for years and barely weighed a hundred pounds, but now I have had such good results that I am recommending the Vegetable Compound to every one."—Mrs. J. J. BIEBER, 3939 18th Ave. South, Minneapolis, Minn.

Finds a True Friend

"Every woman who values her health should be proud to have a true friend like the Vegetable Compound," says Mrs. W. E. Shaw, 3627 Walnut Street, Chicago, Illinois. "I had female weakness so badly that I could not stand on my feet. Half of my time was spent in bed, and I had pains in my back which were unbearable. I tried everything I could think of to help myself, and when a friend advised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I began taking it at once. I recommend it without hesitation."

Truth Serum Gains In Murder Case

Kansas City, Kan., Oct. 30—Score one for scopolamin.

An affadavit based upon its use has been admitted as a point of argument in the district court here and upon the credence placed by the court in its capability of bringing out the truth, depends the motion of Link Sykes, negro, convicted of murder, for a rehearing.

While under the influence of the truth serum recently, Sykes declared consistently that he did not kill the man, whose murder he was convicted of having committed. In his affadavit, Dr. Frank Gross, who was present during the demonstration, declared he believed Sykes told the truth while under the influence of the "truth extracting" drug.

Judge F. D. Hutchings has not yet handed down his decision on the motion for a new trial for Sykes.

Plan To Purchase Jefferson Home

Kansas City, Oct. 30—A nationwide campaign to collect $1,000,000 needed to purchase Monticello, the home of Thomas Jefferson, and to maintain the old mansion as a shrine, was reflected here by a call of the University of Virginia alumni for the city to pledge a sum to the memorial foundation.

Subscribers to the fund will consider themselves purchasers of Thomas Jefferson Memorial mileage tickets and at the rate of 1 cent a mile, according to each contribution, the traveler, in spirit, may journey to Monticello. New York motion pictures have decided to redeem the mileage tickets and will set aside a day when every cent subscribed will be redeemed at its face value for admittance to the theater, according to Fred Kuper of New York, who is here in interest of the drive.

The national campaign was started October 12.

Walton Resumes Publication of Paper

Oklahoma City, Oct. 30—One newspaper, at least, will be a stunch supporter of Suspended Governor Walton during his trial before the state senate, which will decide whether he is to be impeached.

The suspended executive has announced he will resume publication of his "Oklahoma City Record," which, he says, will be issued intermittently throughout the trial. The first issue was to appear on the streets of Oklahoma City and the larger towns of Oklahoma today.

"Jack Walton's Daily" is the new title of the newspaper which the governor says he will use to fight the Ku Klux Klan and the other newspapers of the state which have spoken harshly of him during the recent troubled era. It is said Walton and those associated with him have purchased a complete newspaper plant with a fast rotary press and a battery of lynotype machines for setting type.

The subscription price, it is said, will be $1 a month.

Attn'y-Gen. Into Diploma Mill Expose

Jefferson City, Oct. 30—Jesse W. Barrett, state attorney general of Missouri, has entered the fight against fake physicians and medical schools said to be operating extensively in the Southwest with headquarters in St. Louis.

Attention of the state lawmakers has been called by Barrett to the need for a law empowering the governor to remove from office any county officer who violates the law. Barrett's action was at the instance of the expose of B. H. Jolley, superintendent of schools in St. Charles county, who is said to have admitted selling high school credits.

A bill was introduced in the last session of the state assembly to provide such powers, but the measure met defeat. The attorney general mildly rebuked the public for its failure to take an interest in the proposed measure when it was before the legislature.

"Editorial comment and public sentiment both demand the removal of a county school superintendant who has been issuing improperly high school certificates," Barrett said, "but neither editorial comment nor the public came to the aid of legislation which would have made the removal possible."

The attorney general said the authority needed in the present emergency is invested in nearly every other governor.

Dr. Emmett North, president of the state board of health, has asked Barrett for a opinion as to whether he can use a part of its appropriation to make a state-wide survey of medical schools and the 8,000 physicians now practicing in Missouri.

Buick Open Cars are Stormtight

Perfect protection is provided from rain and wind. The lower frame of the windshield fits into a permanent rubber grommet. Moulded rubber seals every joint between the frames and posts. At the top a new weatherstrip, steel reinforced, excludes all air that might enter between the windshield and top, and side curtains button to the windshield, instead of the posts, covering the slight crack between them.

In addition to these and numerous other refinements, Buick four-wheel brakes afford a greater degree of safety on all models.

Mr. Farmer, Do You Know That---

More than half the wealth of America is in her farms? A value equal to all the railroads, manufacturing of every kind and all other industries, and yet the financing of farm loans received little attention until we discovered that the fertile soil mantle that covers the smiling valleys and eternal hills of America was the safest security in the world on which to base loans—and then the Federal Farm Loan Act was passed. Let us tell you of its good features.
